5. Read the text. Put the headings a-f in the correct place 1-6 in the text.

1. _____

Tourism will always have an impact on the places visited. Sometimes the impact is good, but often it is negative. For example, if lots of people visit one place, then this can damage the environment. The question is – how can we minimize the problems without preventing people from travelling and visiting places?

2. _____

The main aim of ecotourism is to reduce the negative impact that tourism has on the environment and local people. The idea is to encourage tourists to think about what they do when they visit a place.

3. _____

It is great to talk about protecting the environment, but how do you actually do this? There are a number of key points. Tourists should not drop litter, they should stay on the paths, they should not interfere with wildlife and they should respect local customs and traditions.

4. _____

Some people see ecotourism. They say that any tourism needs infrastructure- roads, airports and hotels. The more tourists that visit a place, the more of these are needed and, by building more of these, you can't avoid damaging the environment.

5. _____

But, of course, things are not so black and white. Living in a place of natural beauty does not mean that you should not benefit from things like better roads. As long as the improvements benefit the local people and not just the tourists, and the local communities are consulted on plans and changes, then is there really a problem?

6. _____

In 2002 the United Nations celebrated the International Year of ECOTOURISM. Over the past twenty years, more and more people have started taking eco-holidays. In countries such as Ecuador, Nepal, Costa Rica and Kenya, ecotourism represents a significant proportion of the tourist industry.

a.) Is more infrastructure always bad?

b.) What is ecotourism?

c.) Is tourism always good?

d.) How popular is ecotourism?

e.) What exactly does ecotourism mean?

f.) Is ecotourism really possible?
